Excursions From Nebraska to Arizona

The Phoenix (Arizona) Daily Republican of May 14 publishes a lengthy write-up of Lloyd C. Thomas' work there and in Nebraska, from which we take the following, which we think will be interesting to many of our readers:

Believing that the Salt river valley is a veritable land of promise and that there are scores of people in western Nebraska who, by means of a little well directed missionary work, can be induced to come here and make this section their home, Lloyd C. Thomas, part owner of the Alliance (Nebraska) Herald, has affiliated himself with the Dick Erdmans Real Estate and Investment company and is using the columns of his paper in exploiting the advantages of the southwest. He has undertaken a series of articles dealing with matters of interest to those who may be seeking to better their condition. In a short time he will return to Nebraska and will devote the summer months to the formation of a colonization party which he expects to bring to the Salt river valley in the fall.

Already he has the assurance from Nebraska of the success of his undertaking and it only remains for him to go among his people and thereby ascertain just how many families he can bring here. In this respect Mr. Thomas is a board of trade by himself. In the short time he has been in Phoenix he has secured grasp upon the actual conditions that would do credit to an old timer.

Accompanying the more recent article of Mr. Thomas in The Alliance Herald are two three-column pictures showing the Roosevelt dam in the course of construction and the Granite Reef diversion dam.

Tag Day

June 18th has been designated as "tag day" by the sisters who have charge of Mercy Hospital. On that day three ladies, Miss Mary O'Keefe, Mrs. W. D. Rumer and Mrs. John Brennan, each assisted by six girls, all of whom will be supplied with suitable tags, will solicit donations to be used in furnishing the new hospital building when it opens July 1st. Every person making a donation will be given a tag to wear during the balance of the day.

As this will be something new to this city, and as the donations will be to help a work of mercy and charity, it is expected that the public will respond liberally on tag day.

Obituary.

W. H. Thomas, writing from Xenia, Ohio, May 24, says: "Brother passed away five hours before I arrived." Mr. Thomas encloses a clipping from the Xenia Daily Gazette containing the following of which he says, "Nice things are written of the dead, some times, but I am sure these are facts."

George W. Thomas was born April 9, 1855, and died May 19, 1910, at 4 p. m., at the family home on East Third street, in Xenia, Ohio. His parents were John William Thomas and Mary Thomas. He never married but made his home with his two sisters, Elizabeth E., and Jennie M. Thomas, who with one brother, William H. Thomas, of Alliance, Neb., survive him. He spent all of his life in Xenia, Ohio. He united with the First Methodist Episcopal church in 1878 during the pastorate of Rev. Lucien Clark. He lived a quiet life, unobtrusive, modest, honest in the highest sense. He was not gifted in speech, but was one of the most sincere and genuine Christian men of the community. His kindly spirit, his interest in his fellow men, and in the church to which he belonged, were matters of remark of all among his friends. His upright and spotless life, his keen and clear sense of right, bespoke a cultivated, tender conscience to the prompting of which he gave faithful heed. Such a life is to be emulated.
